AGRICULTURAL.

Secretary Rusk Makes His Annual Report.

HOPEFUL VIEW OF AFFAIRS.

The Secretary Claims That the Farmer Has Been Greatly Benefited During the Past Year and Expresses Himself Perfectly Satisfied With the Present Condition of Agricultural Matters.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The secretary of agriculture has presented his annual report to the president. He expresses a distinctly hopeful view of agricultural affairs, indicating the obvious benefits to farmers of certain legislation which he specifies. By comparing prices at Chicago for Oct. 16, of 1890 and of 1889, he shows a marked increase in the values of agricultural products, especially of cereals.

Secretary Rusk asserts that without ignoring the effects of natural causes in enhancing values, it is evident that the economic legislation of the last session of congress has directly benefited the farmers; the improved value of cereals, as he believes, being largely due to the silver legislation, which, moreover, has lessened the influence of Russia and India, our wheat competitors in British markets.

Our increased export trade in cattle and animal products, another cause of congratulation, he traces to the energetic and effective measures adopted for the eradication of pleuro-pneumonia, and to the growing appreciation at home and abroad of the department's ability to suppress or effectually control contagious animal diseases. In the line of further precaution the department is now prepared to carry out the inspection of export cattle before shipment, provided for by the act of Aug. 30. Similar energy has been directed to our pork interests, the department having already undertaken the inspection called for by the same act.

The secretary strongly recommends an inspection law still more comprehensive of all animals slaughtered for interstate or foreign trade. The present immunity of northern cattle from Texas fever he believes to be due to a general compliance with the regulations of the department issued last spring.

The outlook for a home sugar industry is considered favorable. The secretary predicts that in the near future half of our sugar will be thus supplied from the sugar beet.

In the provisions of the tariff bill, Secretary Rusk finds what he regards as some glaring inconsistencies in that it gives entire control of sugar manufacturing and bounty payments to a subordinate officer of the treasury department, in spite of the fact that heretofore the department of agriculture has been charged with general supervision of the sugar industry both in its cultural and manufacturing phases.

The production of raw silk as an indigenous industry is referred to in not very encouraging terms, though its importance is emphasized by reference to the imports of raw silk, which have largely increased during the year and are valued for the year at upwards of $24,000,000; but the necessity for favorable legislation, as well for improvements in machinery, is insisted upon. Secretary Rusk believes that the recent changes in the tariff on linens will serve to encourage manufacturers to provide a market for home grown flax.

Reference is made to the forthcoming transfer of the weather bureau to the department of agriculture, with a declaration of the secretary's desire to extend the present scope of the bureau, so as to increase the benefits to agriculture. He also insists strongly upon the necessity of more frequent representation of the department at meetings of agricultural and kindred societies, not only to give them encouragement and supply information, but for the benefit of the department workers themselves, who will thus be brought into closer contact with the farmers and will become more familiar with their wants and their best means for meeting them.

The possibility of serving the corn growers throughout the country by extending the market for Indian corn in foreign countries, has engaged the secretary's attention with the result that he has appointed a special agent abroad having special qualifications for this duty to investigate and report upon the possibilities of promoting the consumption of Indian corn in European countries.

The frequent occurrences of important international agricultural gatherings is mentioned, and the fact is pointed out that at these, the United States, the greatest agricultural country in the world, is most frequently conspicuous by its absence. The secretary declares that some means should be provided by which on occasions of great importance, such as the international congress at Vienna last year, this country could be officially represented through the department of agriculture. Such gatherings, he argues, afforded the very best opportunity for properly qualified persons familiar with conditions of American agriculture, to observe the methods pursued abroad, and to estimate their adaptability to our own country. By such means alone, he says, will it be possible for us to hold our own in the intellectual competition which is the basis of all commercial competition.

In concluding his report he says: "I feel amply justified in expressing my general satisfaction at the condition of agricultural matters in our own country," adding that, in spite of the effects of former agricultural depression and of such local depression as must exist more or less at all times in some sections, at least, of so vast a country as ours, yet, "a careful review of the events of the past year and a general survey of the agricultural field to-day, betoken marked improvement in the condition of our agriculturists and promise well for their future well-being."

He ends by declaring that he looks forward with confidence to the time when in the high quality of its work, as well as in the magnitude of its enterprise, the agriculture of the United States shall not only lead all other industries in this country, but shall be the leader in this great industry of all other countries.

OHIO'S CROPS.

Increase in Acreage of Wheat—Corn Poor. Other Farm Products.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 10.—The following agricultural report is based on returns from the regular township correspondents, carefully compiled by counties and averaged for the state for the past month:

Wheat—Sown last fall for the harvest of 1890, 2,557,917 acres; sown this fall compared with last year, 101 per cent.; estimated area seeded for the harvest of 1891, 2,575,056 acres; condition, compared with a full average, 99 per cent.; average date of seeding, Sept. 24.

Barley—Sown last fall for the harvest of 1890, 35,093 acres. Sown this fall, compared with last year, 96 per cent. Condition, compared with a full average, 95 per cent. Estimated area for the harvest of 1891, 31,524 acres.

Corn—Prospect compared with a full average, 56 per cent.

Potatoes—Estimated product per acre 45 per cent. Affected by rot, 13 per cent.

Apples—Product compared with full average, 9 per cent.

Hogs—Condition compared with a full average, 83 per cent. Number to be fattened compared with last year, 82 per cent.

Commercial fertilizers—Farmers using on wheat, 31 per cent.

The basis of comparison for acreage of wheat is with that sown last fall, but it should be remembered that a considerable portion of the wheat sown last fall was plowed up in the spring, so that there was a much less number of acres for the harvest than was originally sown.

The estimated increase, compared with the area last fall, is about 17,000 acres, but compared with the estimated area that was actually harvested the past season, there is an increase of over 200,000, and which, if nothing occurs in the winter or spring to cause another plow up, will make a marked difference in the product for the next harvest.

As to the condition of soil at time of seeding, fifty-four counties report good, twenty-four counties fair and ten counties bad.

Corn for the state will not exceed an average of twenty bushels an acre, and there will be considerable of an unmarketable grade.

Reports are numerous that corn in shock sustained damage by reason of the heavy rains, and far short of the usual amount at this time of the year is cribbed, owing to soft undry condition. Considerable corn is being husked and fed off; still, owing to the very small crop, farmers are selling their hogs as fast as they can get them in the market. Well fattened lard hogs will be the exception and not the rule this year.

The corn crop of last year was about 87,500,000 bushels, an average of 32 3-10 bushels per acre. This year, with the slight decrease in acreage and the grain falling off in product, the crop is estimated at about 53,000,000 of bushels, a shortage as compared with last year of more than 34,000,000, considerable of which will be of inferior quality.

In Ohio the potato crop is unusually short, and we have now no reason to expect more than about one-half of a fair average product, and with the reports of the state the shortage may be still greater. Last year the potato product was reported as 11,500,000 bushels. The present prospect, with a slight increase of acreage over last year, indicates only about 6,500,000 bushels, a shortage of about 5,000,000.

The hay crop is the best for a number of years, averaging for the state fully one and one-half tons per acre. It was harvested under the most favorable circumstances, but there will be some damage to that in the stack by reason of the heavy rains during September.

MARINE DISASTER INDICATED.

Wreckage Pointing to the Loss of a Large Ship With All on Board.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 10.—It is reported from Summerside that several envelopes bearing Swedish postmarks and addressed to persons "on the bark Falka" were picked up by a pilot at Fish Island. Numerous letters similarly addressed, a gold-headed cane and other articles with wreckage have also been picked up along the New London, P. E. I., shore. It is said that during one of the late severe storms persons in the neighborhood of Tignish saw a large bark in distress off the shore at that place. While they were watching her a thick rain squall came up and hid her from view, and when it cleared away the vessel had disappeared, and was not seen again. Everything points to the loss of a large foreign bark, with all hands on board.

Steamship Long Overdue.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.—The steamship Gussie, Capt. Brown, of the Morgan line, between Bluefields, Nicaragua, and New Orleans, is long overdue, and it is feared was lost in the recent hurricane in the gulf. The Gussie is a sidewheel steamer, twenty years old. She was loaded with fruit and rubber, and left Bluefields Oct. 30. The passengers on board were J. A. Belanger and Mrs. Landry, of Bluefields; F. Beer, of Friedlander & Company; Beverly Harris, son of the late J. L. Harris, a prominent cotton man, of New Orleans; Mr. Ratto, of the Galveston Importing company, and Mr. Smith, of Smith & Levy, attorneys, Galveston. The Gussie was consigned to the Southern Pacific

NATIONAL POLITICS.

THE SPEAKERSHIP CONTEST.

It is Likely to Greatly Affect the Democratic Nomination for President in 1892. Rumors of an Alliance Being Formed for a Thorough Understanding.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—With the return of members of congress to the city, the contest for the speakership of the next house begins to assume local interest and importance. The fight for the position will be waged warmly during the coming winter and will undoubtedly have its effect even on the deliberations of the present house of representatives. The most interesting phase of the discussion on the subject at this time is the question of its relation to the contest for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1892. One of the current bits of gossip is that an alliance may be formed between the east and the west in the speakership contest with a view of making an arrangement for the presidential nomination.

CAUGHT BY DETECTIVES.

A Kentucky Woman Goes to New York to Buy "Green Goods."

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Angelina Elizabeth Conrad, of Brockville, Bracken county, Ky., and Walter Willard, alias "Big Walter," a noted swindler, whose picture is in the rogues' gallery, were arrested here Saturday by detectives who followed them from Newark. The detectives had been shadowing Willard and traced him to Newark, N. J., where he met Mrs. Conrad, introducing himself by a queer symbol on a telegraph blank which each carried.

At police headquarters Inspector Byrnes learned from Mrs. Conrad that she had come from Kentucky to buy $3,000 worth of "green goods" from Willard, had met him in Newark by appointment, and was on her way to conclude the transaction when the detective arrested her. Willard was locked up and Mrs. Conrad was detained at headquarters to appear against him.

BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN LOST.

The British Ship Ravens Hall, Oil Laden, Bound to Calcutta.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Considerable anxiety is felt in shipping circles here as to the British ship Ravens Hall, which sailed from this city on June 11 last and has not since been heard from. The Ravens Hall was bound to Calcutta. She is bulletined as missing at the Maritime Exchange Saturday, and by many it is believed that she is lost.

The vessel was under command of Capt. Telfair, and carried a cargo of 673,500 gallons of refined petroleum, in cases of ten gallons each. The oil was shipped by Henry Strasburger & Company, of this city, and is valued at about $27,000. The agents say that, while the vessel was overdue, no anxiety was felt by them. Others, in view of the combustible character of her cargo, fear that the vessel has been destroyed by fire.

River Steamer Burned.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Nov. 10.—News has reached this city of the sinking of the Ossian Cook, a freight laden boat, which plies between this city and points on the upper Fox river. It appears that when the boat reached what is known as the upper cut near Northport, a small town on the Fox river, it in some way ran against a snag and sunk almost instantly. A man went below to stop the leak and was drowned. All the rest of the crew were saved. At a late hour Sunday afternoon the tug Kittie went up the river with five engines on board, and will try to raise the wreck. The boat is owned by Cook, Brown & Company, of this city, dealers in coal, lime, etc., and is valued at about $15,000; cargo about $2,000.

Ohio School Children.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 10.—The state school commissioner has just prepared his annual abstract of the enumeration of children of school age, that is between 6 and 21, in Ohio. There are 576,326 boys and 548,222 girls. Total 1,124,548, as against 1,120,587 last year—an increase of 4,211. Hamilton county reports 51,649 boys and 51,649 girls and 51,555 girls. Total 103,204, as against 105,975 last year—a decrease of 2,771. Commissioner Hancock, however, is of the opinion that last year's figures were too high and that the enumeration this year is substantially correct. Cuyahoga comes next, with 89,605; then, Franklin with 36,022, and then Lucas, with 33,149.

The Italian Fester.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Professor Succi entered on the fifth day of his fast yesterday evening. He has lost eleven pounds thus far, but otherwise is feeling very well.

A THREATENED LYCHING.

A Disastrous Race Riot May Soon Take Place at Annapolis, Md.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 10.—Ernest Forbes was lodged in jail Friday, charged with outraging Bertha Phipps, a 15-year-old girl living near West River. The assault was committed on Thursday, the girl being terribly maltreated. Forbes was not captured until the following day, and then only after a careful search, in which a great many persons joined. At the time of his capture Forbes was twice shot at, one ball lodging in his back.

Threats of lynching were freely made, and last night Sheriff Armiger decided to secretly remove Forbes to the city hotel. Some person espied the officer and prisoner and immediately spread the report that Forbes was about to be lynched. Within fifteen minutes 1,000 negroes had surrounded the place where Forbes had been secreted and made all sorts of threats against the jailers if they allowed the prisoner to be harmed.

Soon bricks began to fly and pistols were flourished. The officers with drawn revolvers arrested thirteen negroes and lodged them in jail. By this time the entire town was aroused to a pitch unequalled in many years and a disastrous riot between the whites and blacks was imminent. The sheriff secured sufficient assistance about midnight, dispersed the mob and marched Forbes back to jail where he has since been guarded by a strong force.

A LEAP FOR LIFE.

Man Jumps from a Trestle into a River, Ninety-Two Feet Below.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 10.—John Murphy, a harness maker living at Rocky River, near this city, had a thrilling experience Saturday. He attempted to cross the river on the high bridge of the Nickel-Plate railroad. When half way over he turned and saw an express train coming. The bridge is long, and Murphy knew that he could not reach the opposite bank ahead of the train.

Ninety-two feet below him was the river, and a jump would mean almost certain death. He signaled to the engineer, but the train rushed ahead. Seeing there was no chance to hang from the side of the bridge Murphy took the desperate chance of jumping. He went down like a flash and disappeared in the river. A boat house keeper had witnessed the leap, and he at once put out in a boat, expecting to pick up the man's dead body. Murphy arose to the surface and put out for shore. He was again into the boat, and strange to say was injured but little. His side was bruised and a watch in his vest pocket was smashed flat. A physician who was called says his injuries were not serious.

THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

A Claim That Alliance Men Will Soon Control Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—President Polk, of the Farmers' Alliance has just returned to the city. In an interview he said: "Up to the present time it is a certainty that the Fifty-second congress will contain thirty-eight straight-out Alliance men, and from twelve to fifteen others who are pledged to us. These men are from the south and northwest—the two sections in which most of our work was done."

"The Alliance in Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa is not our organization, has not amalgamated with us, but it made the same fight and will join us this winter. Our alliance co-operated with them; we will co-operate with any farmers' association and in a little while have a grip on the situation in almost every corner of the land."

"We are here to stay. This great reform movement will not cease until it has impressed itself indelibly in the nation's history. Financial reform is the necessity of the hour, and it must come."

Highway Robbery.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Nov. 10.—John Handerschild, a driver for Schmid Brothers, brewers, was returning yesterday from Key-West, a village five miles from Dubuque. While driving through a lonely ravine he was accosted by three men, who asked permission to ride with him to Dubuque. He granted their request, and they at once demanded of him his money. He refused to give it up and one of the men shot him in the left side, inflicting a dangerous wound. The thieves then took a purse containing $100 and fled, leaving Handerschild unconscious on his wagon.

John Boyle O'Reilly's Remains. BOSTON, Nov. 10.—The remains of John Boyle O'Reilly were interred at Holyhood cemetery, Brookline, Friday. They were brought there from the tomb of Calvary cemetery. The burial was strictly private, only a few of the immediate family being present. The monument is an immense boulder impressive in the massiveness. The tomb is at the base of the boulder and is constructed of New Hampshire slate.

Determined on Bloodshed.

TEXARKANA, Tex., Nov. 10.—E. M. Jones, an employee of the Cotton Belt, has disappeared from here taking with him Clara Weigle, a pretty girl of 17. The officials of the road charge that Jones is short in his accounts to a large amount. A brother of the girl has started in pursuit armed with a gun and a determination to cause bloodshed.

Lending Dry Goods Merchant Dead.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 10.—Richard Knott, one of the leading dry goods merchants of Louisville, died yesterday afternoon. He was the father of Richard W. Knott, an associate editor of The Courier Journal.

Five Dwellings Burned.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 10.—Fire about 12 o'clock last night destroyed five dwellings in the central part of Tremont. All the buildings except one, a two story brick house, were frame structures. Loss estimated at $25,000.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1890

If the Democrats didn't get all they wanted last week it was because they didn't ask for it.

"Don't shake your gory locks at me; Thou can't not say I did it."

That's the way the Plumed Knight now talks when Reed, McKinley and Quay refer to the late election.

The Kentucky State Journal of Newport remarks that "since the election a Democrat can be told a mile away. Long before he can be seen you can see his grin."

As BELL COUNTY becomes "civilized," she becomes more and more Democratic. She used to be good for 400 majority for the G. O. P. Last week she gave the Democrats 600 majority.

Of all the Democrats spoken of in connection with the Speakership of the next House, Hon. W. C. P. Breckinridge, "the silver-tongued orator," is the man for the place. He would be almost another Calhoun in the chair.

"The Democratic party is thoroughly united, and has planted itself on Democratic principles. It will not abandon its sacred cause, but will continue the warfare until it achieves complete success."

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

Ex-President Hayes may not have said "the passage of the McKinley bill was the worst blow ever struck the Republican party," but if he did say so, the elections show that he is a level-headed old gentleman on the tariff question.

The Constitutional convention devoted certain days of last week to the selection of an editor of the speeches of the delegates. He will only cost the State $8 per day. What the convention really needs is a man to move the previous question every ten or fifteen minutes, and a majority to back him in his demands.—Frankfort Capital.

As usual, Brother Johnson is right. It's to be regretted that there isn't one member with backbone enough to demand the previous question and call the convention back from the pleasant fields of oratory. The convention has been in session over fifty days now, and has been talking, talking, talking most of the time.

How's This?

Rev. D. D. Chapin, rector of the Church of the Nativity, received an interesting notice a few days ago, which explains itself. Here it is:

PHILADELPHIA, PA., 902 Walnut St.

Reverend and Dear Sir: We, who are considered good judges, estimate that the new tariff will raise the price of clothing at least 20 per cent.

We shall sell all our present stock of clothing (because imported under the old duties) without any advance in prices.

We cannot shut our eyes to the fact that we may be compelled to advance the prices on all goods bought and made under the new tariff, though it is our earnest desire to keep prices down, even if we sell at less profit. We advise all our clerical friends to increase their incomes to meet the emergency of the future, or lay in now. At present it is wise for you to order at once, because you save at least 20 per cent.

Fill the order blank enclosed with anything you desire and we will forward the same, subject to return if not suitable.

E. O. THOMPSON, Clerical Tailor.

School Notes.

PLEASANT RIDGE—No. 33.

This district is situated in the southwestern part of the county on a high ridge. The trustees are James Kennard and John Stokes, the office of third trustee being vacant.

The teacher is Miss Kate Maybough, who taught this school last year. She is a very efficient teacher, has her scholars under good control and their deportment is all that can be desired. We heard classes in U. S. history, mental and written arithmetic and all showed good progress. Miss Maybough will use the written examination work when the proper time arrives. The house is tolerably good only, and the furniture likewise—both could be improved and ought to be. It costs but little to render the school houses attractive and comfortable and pays in the increased interest and comfort of the scholars.

RECTORVILLE—No. 52.

Here we found an excellent school, well furnished, lighted and ventilated. The trustees are J. V. McClure, H. M. Rash and Hardin Bradley. All have visited the school.

The teacher is W. T. Pollitt, an old and experienced educator. The enrollment is 69. The teacher heard for us a class recite in first reader and a class of nine in third, fourth and sixth readers, all of whom did well, several being extraordinarily good readers, much above the average. All the recitations in this school were worthy of commendation and Mr. Pollitt has his school thoroughly trained in every respect.

TOBACCO AND CORN.

What the State Commissioner of Agriculture Says of These Crops.

The Average Yield and Quality of These Products in Kentucky This Year.

In his monthly report issued November 4th, State Commissioner of Agriculture C. Y. Wills says:

The tobacco crop has been all housed, and is comparatively free from injury by frost or barn-freezing. During the early cutting, and occasionally in the intermediate cuttings, the damage to the crop was very serious from house-burn, and what may be called patch bulking. In cutting tobacco it is often piled up in small bales in the field; and if the weather is warm and sultry, and rain should occur before removing to the scaffold or barn, the damage is often very serious by bulking or being inundated by water and dirt. This is true of a good deal of tobacco this year. This, as well as burn-heat, produces a softening of the middle stem of the leaf, and produces a gradual rot and shedding of the leaves from the main stalk.

The August rains and their continuation produced a very sappy growth in all late tobacco, which may be called a second or new growth. All tobacco of this character will cure dark or a dark red, and will be more or less house-burned.

The complaint of house-burn is almost universal over the State, but the percent of damage from this cause cannot be estimated until stripping and assorting has been completed. It is safe to say that it is quite general in sappy crops which were cutting during the warm and wet seasons of September.

There will be a good percentage of fine and very useful tobacco in the crop and no general complaint is made of want of length and breadth of leaf. The outcome of this crop, from August 1st to maturity, was simply wonderful. There will not be very much bright in the crop; a good deal of it was cut before it was well ripened. A great many farmers in the burley section fired their crops with charcoal, and some with flues and wood, to prevent house-burn and barn-rot.

The absence of high or bright color will be a conspicuous feature of the crop, especially in burley. According to reports from 1,000 correspondents, the average yield per acre in the State is 751 pounds. This would be more but for the missing hills, which we estimated at the time of setting to be 10 to 15 per cent. of the total setting. The crops of many farmers will be found badly worm eaten where labor was scarce and unreliable. The total production in the State in 1887 was 117,282,331,421 pounds. The total estimated production in 1889 was 176,457,138 pounds. Average pounds per acre in 1889 was 778; average pounds per acre in 1890, estimated 71. The decrease in production per acre this year from last is because of 10 to 5 per cent, being missing in the hill.

Corn—The corn has about matured, and has not been damaged by frost except the very latest planting. The chief damage consists in stalk falling, and the ears that lay on the ground from this cause. The ears have matured. The average yield per acre in the State, according to 1,000 correspondents, is 25½ bushels. The ear is generally well matured on good land, where cultivation was acreage compared with 1889 is 91 per cent; average quality, 92.

Expected Shakespeare.

George Moore, the English disciple of Zola, once had a play at the Odeon, in Paris, and at the same time an adaptation of "Othello" was being rehearsed at the theatre. He called one morning and asked to see the manager. "What name shall I give, monsieur?" demanded the concierge. "Tell M. Porrell that the English author whose play he has accepted desires to see him." The concierge went toward the manager's room. "There is a gentleman in the hall who tells me he is the English author whose play has just been accepted," he said to the official. "Quite right," answered the latter, "send him in. Monsieur Shakespeare, no doubt."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Mushrooms Out of Place.

At a farm house in Newchurch in Pendle mushrooms grow in profusion in the various rooms on the ground floor. A gentleman visited the place one Sunday, and he found mushrooms growing out of the chinks of the floor and also from the walls. He was allowed to take several away, one of which was eight inches across. The vicar of Newchurch often has a dish from the farm house. It is interesting, but melancholy, to imagine the bodily condition of the dwellers in such a house, and also the mental condition of a clergyman who can enjoy a dainty originating in such a way.—Gardeners' Chronicle.

Ocean Waves.

Waves are very deceptive. To look at them in a storm one would think the water traveled. The water stays in the same place, but the motion goes on. Sometimes in storms these waves are forty feet high and travel fifty miles an hour—more than twice as fast as the swiftest steamship. The distance from valley to valley is generally fifteen times the height, hence a wave five feet high will extend over seventy-five feet of water.—Ocean.

Many and curious are the devices adopted by flowers to insure that their pollen shall be carried to other flowers, which are thus rendered productive. The bright colors and strong odors of the blossoms serve to attract insects, which enter them, are covered with pollen, and thus, without so much as a thank you, are compelled to act as pollen carriers from one flower to another.

Business Men's Writing Desks.

Every man knows how dear to his heart is that pet abomination of women the desk litter. Every man protests if it be disturbed, and declares with emphasis that he can always find what he is looking for if his desk or table be let alone, while the sight of it to women creates an intense desire to clear it up. The desks of some men are curiosities in this regard, and there is probably none in town to compare with that of Francis B. Thurber.

The double desk used by H. K. Thurber and his brother dates back nearly fifty years. It stands on four turned legs, has a sloping writing board and two small cases of pigeon holes, one at each side. F. B. Thurber's share of it is piled with papers clear across the portion on which the owner is supposed to write.

As a result that owner writes on a pad placed on his knees, and it is excessively funny to see him rise slightly in his chair in order that he may reach over the barricade he has erected and dip his pen into the ink. Mr. Thurber must have a marvelous memory to be able to find anything in the pile before him.—New York Telegram.

Significance in Mourning Colors.

In some portions of the world yellow and red are the mourning colors; the Orientals generally adopt blue and white, the Persians wearing a deep indigo, and the Chinese a somewhat dingy, yellowish white. Pure white was at one time worn by royal widows in France, but it afterward fell into disuse. Purple is the mourning color relegated to the church. Just at what period black became the fashionable insignia of woe it is difficult to determine, but for several centuries past it has been generally accepted as such by civilized nations all over the globe.

Among Christians it would appear a somewhat dubious tribute from the living to the dead, as black is suggestive of chaos and annihilation, while the white and blue of pagan lands signify light, hope and the promise of an existence beyond the grave.—Jenness-Miller Magazine.

When the Wheelbarrow Was Invented.

Now a writer in the French scientific journal La Nature calls attention to an old book printed in 1555, in which is a curious wood engraving that represents a single wheeled barrow pushed along by a laborer. Another plate of the same book shows a trainway car running upon rails. This puts the use of the wheelbarrow back more than a hundred years earlier than the time of Pascal.

Is There Nothing New Under the Sun?

A leather Boot, absolutely water-proof and snow-proof, is a thing that would lay claim to such recognition. Were the assertion made that such a thing existed, doubt would arise on all hands and men would say:

Can This Thing Be?

For we have never seen a Boot made of leather that would actually turn both water and snow, and should there be such a thing we would regard it as a boon of great price. We claim to have just that thing; it is

THE Marie Greenwood Opera Company opened in "Boccaccio" to a packed house. The genuine success of the evening was made by Miss Greenwood in the role of Fiametta. Her voice is powerful, flexible, and capable of most difficult execution. The Greenwood Opera Company is equal to all requirements; the chorus particularly is strong, fresh and well balanced.—Syracuse Democrat.

FIFTY.

That's the Number of Indictments Reported by the Grand Jury.

The Fair Companies and Cigarette Sellers Will Have to Answer.

The grand jury reported seventeen indictments Saturday, making fifty in all during the term.

In Saturday's batch were five against Con Guilfoyle and one against Peter Fulton, both of Mayslick, for violations of the liquor laws. The Maysville Fair Company and the Germantown Fair Company were indicted for suffering gaming on their premises, and Fred Houson was indicted for setting up and operating a gambling device. He is the individual who ran the miniature race course scheme at the fair grounds.

Some of the cigarette dealers who have been selling to boys under eighteen years of age will have to walk up to the desk and settle. Five indictments for this offense were reported—one each against F. H. Traxel, A. Bona, F. Devine, Will Stockton and Geo. Childs.

The Town of Mayslick and her officials were indicted for wilful neglect of duty.

The final report is widely different in some respects from that of the grand jury a few months ago, which adjourned without finding a single indictment. In its report Saturday, the jury say:

"We have been in session ten days and returned 50 true bills. We have diligently inquired into all violations of law of which we had any knowledge or information. We have examined a great many witnesses, many of whom had very convenient memories, and knew exactly what to forget. We have used a large number of subpoenas for witnesses who could not be found—they suddenly remembering to have important business in other localities, these business engagements, strange to say, recurring at each session of the grand jury. We have ordered attachments for several of these to appear before the next grand jury.

"We find lawlessness prevailing to an alarming extent in the county, plainly traceable to the sale of intoxicants legally and illegally, and the culpable inefficiency of the police of towns. We especially call the attention of the court to the deplorable condition of affairs in the town of Mayslick, as testified to by a number of the best citizens of the town and vicinity. We also report the condition of affairs bad in the town of Washington. We have had many serious complaints of disorder and lawlessness at a public place on the Maysville and Germantown pike. There seems to have been a combination formed at these three places to defeat all ends of justice. Drunkenness and rioting seem to be the 'order of the day.' Nothing less than a solemn sense of duty impel us to make these charges."

Concluding, the report reads: "We have visited the public buildings and find them in good order, their officers polite, efficient and faithful in the discharge of their respective duties. We would call the attention of the County Court to the necessity of a new carpet in the rear room of the County Clerk's office. We especially desire to return our thanks to the Jailor and Sheriff Alexander and his Deputies for their kindness and faithful service, which has been of great value to us. Also to County Attorney Newell for his constant attendance and efficient aid during our session, all of which is respectfully submitted."

The Opera To-night.

Lovers of comic opera should not miss the entertainment to-night. "Boccaccio" will be rendered here for the first time, by the Greenwood Opera Company. The company numbers thirty-five people and carries its own orchestra. The following is from the Rochester New York Herald:

The performance at the Grand Opera House of the Marie Greenwood Opera Company more than justified all predictions and expectations. "Boccaccio" was presented before a large audience. Few in the audience have ever before heard the sweet voice of Miss Marie Greenwood. Rochester has generally been chary of commendation when asked to pass an opinion upon something new. The approval of Miss Greenwood was most emphatic. In the role of "Fiametta" she meets all the requirements of mere personality; her charm is, after all, in the rare sweetness and purity of her voice, which she uses with such skill and taste as to excite the admiration even of the critical.

Distributing the Good Book.

Mr. Geo. Burrows has just completed a thorough canvass of the Protestant population of the city of Maysville and Chester for the Maysville and Mason County Branch of the American Bible Society and he makes the following report:

Number of families and places of business visited, 420. Number of days engaged in the work, 39. Number of destitute families found, 20. Number of destitute persons supplied, 20. Number of other destitute persons supplied, 19. Number of books sold, 211. Number of books given away, 39. Value of books sold $69 75. Value of books donated $3 55.

In addition to this the President of the branch society has supplied the county jail with 12 copies of the Bible, the county infirmary with same number and the city almshouse with 6 copies.

Persons desiring copies of the Bible or Testament can get them at the minimum cost by calling at the Bible Depository at J. C. Pecor's drug store.

TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

A Clear Understanding Between the Countries.

LATEST ADVICES FROM MILAN.

The Policy Previously Determined Upon Will Be Carried Out and the Ties of Union More Closely United Than Ever. Two Hundred and Fifty Families to Be Evicted—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Advices from Milan state that the meeting of Chancellor Von Caprivi and Signor Crispi was of a peculiarly cordial character. Of the interview between them, nothing is known to the public, but Signor Crispi is expected at a banquet soon to be held in Turin, to give the world an inkling of the understanding arrived at. It is believed in London that the two ministers would not separate without a clear definition as to the future of the triple alliance. It is to be noted that the chancellor rather hastened his journey after the published statement that the Vatican had endeavored to influence the court of Austria against the alliance, and that notes were exchanged on this subject between the Vatican and the papal nuncio at Vienna.

This reported action on the part of the papacy, and the intriguing of France to detach Italy from Germany evidently aroused the German cabinet to the need of binding more closely the ties of the union between the three powers. As both Signor Crispi and Chancellor Von Caprivi as well as their respective masters, are already pledged to the principle of the alliance, the result of the meeting would seem to have been only a cementing of a policy previously determined.

Fifteen Hundred People Homeless.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Another wholesale eviction of non-rent paying tenants from the Olphert estates at Falcarragh, County Donegal, will take place Tuesday. Two hundred and fifty families, comprising 1,500 persons, will be thrust from their humble abodes into the highways. An immense force of police and military have been ordered to the spot in order to prevent any successful resistance on the part of the tenants or their friends.

This announcement following so closely upon Chief Secretary Balfour's tour of Donegal, has caused a painful impression, and if the secretary's visit had in any degree inclined the people to hope and patience, the good effects are likely to be lost in the renewed bitterness of feeling always aroused by the unhousing of hundreds of helpless victims of the rack rent system.

Eight-Hour Movement.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 10.—Meetings were held throughout Belgium yesterday in support of the eight-hour day and universal suffrage. Many of the speakers advocated the establishment of a republic. A large amount of money was collected in view of a general strike. Handbills were thrown over the walls of the barracks in Brussels enjoining the soldiers to co-operate with the workmen.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—A gang of counterfeiters of coin, who have been operating in frontier towns, on the line between Saxony and Austria, have been arrested. An investigation of their case has resulted in implicating a number of hitherto respectable residents of the various towns in the criminal proceedings. The profits of the gang are said to have been enormous.

Some Serious Charges Made.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Lord Londonderry, speaking at West Hartlepool, yesterday, declared that Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien deliberately organized the Tipperary riot and that Mr. Morley was inveigled into a trap set by them.

A BLOODY RIOT.

One Man Killed and Several Seriously Wounded at a Jubilee.

MARION, Ind., Nov. 10.—The Democratic celebration at Fairmount Saturday night in honor of the election last Tuesday was marked by a bloody riot. While the procession was moving along the principal street a negro of herculean proportions ran to the procession brandishing a club and revolver, and commenced firing and knocking right and left.

Al Powell, a white teamster, who was walking in the procession, was shot and instantly killed. The greatest excitement ensued. A score or more shots were fired, and the engagement threatened to become general. William Campbell was shot in the arm, Bill Corn was shot in the leg, Jim Berry received a bullet in the face, and Jerry Frazier, colored, received a ball in the leg.

The colored man who started the riot, whose home cannot now be ascertained, was shot twice in the back after he had killed Powell, and was placed under arrest. He was taken off in the calaboose with a howling mob at his heels, and reports from Fairmount are to the effect that there is a good prospect for a lynching.

Sheriff McFeely, of this city, has gone to the scene of the riot and will endeavor to protect the prisoner. The cooler heads at Fairmount are also using all their influence to prevent mob violence.

The darky who did the shooting came to Fairmount a few days ago from Anderson.

The condition of one or two victims who were wounded in the difficulty is reported serious.

It Proved to Be a Murder.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10.—David A. Greever, the wealthy cattle man, who was shot Friday afternoon by Charles Clifford, the New York light-weight pugilist, died from the effect of his wound yesterday afternoon. Clifford will be arraigned, charged with murder. Mrs. Clifford, over whom the quarrel was held, has disappeared. It is thought she may have concealed herself, fearful of being charged with complicity in Greever's murder.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The President Fixes on Thursday, Nov. 27, as the Day for Thanks.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The following proclamation has been issued by the president of the United States:

A Proclamation:

By the grace and favor of Almighty God the people of this nation have been led to the closing days of the passing year, which has been full of the blessings of peace and the comforts of plenty. Bountiful compensation has come to us for the work of our minds and of our hands in every department of human industry.

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, president of the United States of America, do hereby appoint Thursday, the 27th day of the present month of November, to be observed as a day of prayer and thanksgiving; and I do invite the people upon that day to cease from their labors, to meet in their accustomed houses of worship and to join in rendering gratitude and praise to our beneficent Creator for the rich blessings He has granted us as a nation, and invoking the continuance of His protection and grace for the future. I commend to my fellow citizens the privilege of remembering the poor, the homeless and the sorrowful. Let us endeavor to merit the promised recompense of charity and the gracious acceptance of our prayer.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 8th day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1890, and of the independence of the United States, the 115th.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

By the President—James G. Blaine, Secretary of State.

Indian Murderer Found Guilty.

MISSOULA, Mont., Nov. 10.—Pierre Paul, an Indian, was Saturday night found guilty of murder in the first degree. This is the fourth Indian who has been found guilty in the last three weeks of murdering white men on the Flat-head reservation. Pascale killed a man for his money. Antler was one of the three Indians who shot three prospectors without provocation. His companions were lynched. Lasee and Pierre Paul, with three or four others, went out gunning for white men and each of them killed a man. Pascale, Antler and Lasee are sentenced to be hanged Dec. 19, and Paul will probably swing at the same time.

An Innocent Man in Prison.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 10.—A statement has been received from a Pittsburg lawyer which, if true, shows that an innocent man is in the penitentiary. In December, 1888, William Offet was received at the penitentiary from Lorain county to serve fifteen years for assault with intent to rape. The prosecuting witness was Mrs. Julia Underwood, the wife of a minister. Offet admitted intimacy, but denied the assault. The husband writes that his wife, from whom he is now separated, has confessed to him that her testimony was false.

Thought It Was Empty.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 10.—Frank Keller, of Linton, had been shooting at dogs, and a day or so ago was cleaning his revolver, which he thought was empty. It was discharged, and his wife, who was standing near, was shot in the right side. She has since died. Mr. Keller is left with three small children, and is almost distracted with grief.

Damaged Wall Paper.

NEENHAH, Wis., Nov. 10.—The Globe wall paper mills were gutted by fire early yesterday morning. S. E. Trout, Sr., a member of the firm, places his loss upon the stock at about $4,000; fully insured. The building is owned by E. F. Wickert, who estimates his loss at $1,700; insured for $1,500. Incendiarism is suspected.

Signal Tower Ran Into.

ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 10.—A stock train crashed into and completely wrecked the signal tower at Port Royal, on the Pennsylvania road, yesterday. The operator escaped death by jumping from the tower but the fireman of the train was killed.

Explosion in a Brewery.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—An explosion in the famous Pilsen brewery yesterday caused the death of four workmen and the serious injury of several others.
